RETINOL RESURFACING

Indicated for the treatment of manifestations of skin aging, hyperpigmentation and stretch marks.

Retinol is a retinoid precursor to retinoic acid. Accelerates mitosis, increases enzymatic activity and normalizes keratinization. Nourishes the skin, prevents the appearance of wrinkles, diminishes the depth of existing wrinkles and improves the elasticity of the skin. In addition, retinol attenuates the spots caused by excessive exposure to UV rays by regulating the proliferation and mobility of melanocytes.

COSMELAN

The Cosmelan Depigmentation Peel is a unique, multi-ingredient chemical procedure designed to significantly reduce areas of hyperpigmentation and skin discolouration.

Cosmelan is a product that can treat all types of pigmentation such as melasma, post-inflammatory pigmentation, solar and senile lentigo (age spots) and freckles. Dull skin, dark spots, dry areas, blemishes, and even acne scars can all be significantly decreased with the peel. Cosmelan is a game-changer.

Key benefits of Cosmelan can include:

Reduction of all forms of pigmentation

Includes melasma, post-inflammatory hyperpigmentation, senile lentigo and solar lentigo (age and sun spots), and ephelides (freckles)

Improving uneven skin tone

Creates a smoother and more even tone overall

Brightens and rejuvenates skin

Active ingredients also helps to brighten the skin, giving it a fresh and revitalised glow

Reduces acne scarring

The duality of corrective and regulating actions make it a unique, all-round treatment

Reduces fine line and wrinkles

The combination of active ingredients is also effective against signs of ageing

PLASMA PEEL

Plasma skin resurfacing is an FDA-approved procedure that uses thermal energy to reveal youthful, rejuvenated skin. It differs from previous treatments because, rather than removing the surface layer of the skin, it stimulates a natural rejuvenation process below the top layer of the skin to improve skin tone and texture.

As a newer type of skin therapy, plasma skin resurfacing is a unique, non-laser facial rejuvenation technique that reduces signs of aging and delivers facelift-like effects with little downtime.

WHAT IT TREATS

Plasma skin resurfacing is an ideal choice for a wide range of patients and can improve numerous conditions on the face, neck, chest, and hands. It treats:

- Age spots and skin discoloration (hyperpigmentation)
- Benign skin lesions/actinic keratosis
- Early jowling
- Fine lines
- Fine, moderate, and deep wrinkles
- Loose, sagging skin
- Poor and uneven skin tone, texture, and elasticity
- Rough patches
- Wrinkles and creases around the nose and mouth
